Faith & Fitness	I think a B-Group based around faith & fitness would be so beneficial to those who are not only trying to grow their faith but also have an interest and passion for fitness as well. As I've grown in both of these journeys I've realized they're more intertwined than I thought. The discipline and devotion I put into my fitness derives from the strength I receive from God. I would love to encourage others to do the same and give insight on how you can balance the two.	Sunday Hybrid Bi-weekly
